Is it better to invest in photovoltaic panels yourself or rent them

Overview

In 2025, the decision to buy or lease solar panels comes down to your long-term goals, budget, and how recent policy changes may impact your investment. Buying offers greater long-term savings and full ownership benefits, while leasing provides a low-commitment. Still, whether you should lease or buy your solar energy system depends on your budget, preferences and long-term plans. "It depends on how much disposable income you have, and what your goals are," Michaud said. No. Buying and leasing solar panels are the two most common ways of getting solar panels at home. With the expiration of key tax credits for purchasing panels, leasing may grow even more in. The option to lease solar panels allows homeowners to go solar without a big initial investment, removing the main barrier to entry into the world of clean, renewable energy.
